Hello Mr. Ramos-Horta and team,

As we continue approaching the HPAIR Asia Conference in August, I wanted to warmly invite you to two additional engagement opportunities at the conference beyond the standard speaking sessions:

1. Participating in an Executive Seminar:

Hundreds of outstanding delegates attend each fireside chat, and this large audience maximizes the reach of your insights but also limits engagement with delegates on a more personal level. HPAIR's main opportunity for individualized delegate interaction is executive seminars, in which one speaker has an hour-long, open-ended conversation with about 20-30 delegates over lunch.

The conversation is heavily delegate-driven, allowing you to share more personalized insights tailored to delegates who are deeply interested in your work and often have substantial experience in your field. Your executive seminar is separate from your fireside chat and will take place on Friday, August 22nd 11:30am-1pm. Food for the lunchtime conversation is provided at no cost by HPAIR. Please let me know if you'd be interested!

2. VIP Dinner

HPAIR hosts a VIP dinner for all conference speakers to get to know one another, share their respective industry expertise, and enjoy a delicious restaurant meal covered by HPAIR. Would you be interested in participating in this event on the evening of Saturday, August 23rd?

I look forward to your reply and cannot wait to host you at the University of Tokyo this August!

Sincerely,
Ashley

Introduction

Good morning, ACONF delegates! It is my honor to introduce His Excellency Dr. José Ramos-Horta, President of the Democratic Republic of Timor-Leste and a Nobel Peace Prize laureate. President Ramos-Horta is an internationally renowned statesman and peacemaker with decades of leadership experience at the national, regional, and global levels.

He currently serves as the President of Timor-Leste (2022–2027) and previously held the role from 2007–2012, alongside terms as Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs. A founding father of Timor-Leste's independence, he has been instrumental in shaping its democratic institutions and advocating for self-determination, transitional justice, and international cooperation.

Beyond his national leadership, President Ramos-Horta has served as the UN's Special Representative to Guinea-Bissau, Chair of the UN High-Level Panel on Peace Operations, and co-chair of the International Commission on Multilateralism. His unwavering commitment to peace has earned him accolades worldwide, including the Nobel Peace Prize, and recognition from over 20 universities and governments around the world.

Please join me in welcoming His Excellency President José Ramos-Horta.

Questions

I. Foundations of Independence and Leadership

1. President Ramos-Horta, Timor-Leste's journey to independence is one of the most remarkable stories of modern self-determination. Could you take us back to that chapter—what sustained your leadership and resilience throughout the years of exile and struggle?

2. After decades abroad, you returned home to help lead a new democracy. What were the first lessons in state-building you had to learn—often in real time?

II. Timor-Leste's Role in a Changing Region

- 3. Let's now shift to the region: As Timor-Leste continues the accession process to ASEAN, what role do you envision your country playing in the future of Southeast Asia?*
 - 4. How do you see ASEAN evolving in today's multipolar world, especially as tensions rise between China and the U.S. in the Indo-Pacific?*
 - 5. More broadly, how can smaller nations like Timor-Leste assert meaningful leadership on the global stage—particularly in diplomacy, development, and peacebuilding?*

III. Regional Cooperation and Global Initiatives

- 6. You've worked closely with international institutions from the United Nations to the G7+ and the International Commission on Multilateralism. What does effective multilateral cooperation look like today, and what's missing?*
 - 7. As someone who has helped shape peace operations worldwide—from Timor-Leste to Guinea-Bissau—what makes peace sustainable beyond ceasefires and elections?*

V. Vision and Closing Reflections

- 8. Looking forward, what is your vision for Timor-Leste's future, not only as a young nation but as a regional and global actor? And what final advice would you give to us, the next generation, as we take up the torch of leadership in uncertain times?*
